

2004 Annual Meeting of the Higher Learning Commission

Resource Room and Self-Study Share Fair Roster and Contact Information

The Higher Learning Commission staff have selected the institutions on this list to participate in the 2004 Resource Room and Self-Study Share Fair. We appreciate the willingness of these institutions to share their documents with others. It is important to note that the Self-Study Reports on display are not intended to be models of how to write your self-study. Instead they are provided as examples of the range of ways to write and package your report.

This document includes the names and contact information for all of the institutions participating in this year's Resource Room and Self-Study Share Fair. Each listing is designated with either an "RR" (for Resource Room only) or "RR/F" (for both Resource Room and Self-Study Fair) after the institution's name. Signs posted throughout the room provide further direction.

For your convenience, the Resource Room contains at least two copies of each institution's report. You are invited to review the documents on display and to take them to the tables for further study. Free photocopying service is available for those who would like to duplicate a few pages. Unbound copies of the self-studies can be checked out in the Copy Center desk, located next door in Columbus GH. Special thanks to Document Technologies, Inc. and Imagistics International Inc. for sponsoring the Copy Center. Those who want more extensive sections of reports should contact the institutions listed in this document. Most institutions will provide their reports for a small fee to cover direct costs. Also, please note that many reports are available on the web.
