Northland College Designation: Financial Distress Effective: May 13, 2024

The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) has assigned a Financial Distress designation to Northland College in Ashland, Wisconsin, based on the institution's declaration of financial exigency on or about April 4, 2024.

A Financial Distress designation is a consumer protection mechanism meant to apprise the public that current conditions at an accredited college or university raise serious concerns about its resource base to support its educational programs per HLC's Criteria for Accreditation, including Core Component 5.B. HLC does not undertake any independent evaluation of the institution in advance of assigning a designation.

Northland College remains accredited while assigned the Financial Distress designation.

What the Financial Distress designation Means for Students

In most cases, colleges and universities will continue to accept the institution's credits for transfer and admission to other higher degree programs and institutions. As all colleges and universities define their own transfer credit and admission policies, students interested in other institutions are advised to seek information on individual transfer and admission policies.

Next Steps

The institution will host a Focused Visit in October 2024 on its compliance with certain HLC requirements, including Core Component 5.B. HLC anticipates that the designation will remain in place until the Focused Visit process concludes. Once final action is taken on the Focused Visit by an appropriate decision-making body, HLC will determine whether the designation can be removed or if other action is necessary.

About the Higher Learning Commission
